

Ann-Marie Roos-Jansåker

Dr. Roos-Jansåker became a certified specialist in periodontology in 2002 and was awarded the degree of Odont. Dr. (PhD) in 2007. Her thesis is entitled "Long time follow up of implant therapy and treatment of peri-implantitis". She currently works at the Centre for Specialist Dentistry in Karlskrona and Kristianstad in Sweden. She collaborates with Kristianstad University and Malmö University in clinical research on peri-implantitis, periodontitis and impacted canines. During several years she has frequently been involved in courses and congress speeches both at national and international levels. The important communication with and motivation of the patient are crucial to reach the goal of infection control, and one of the topics that interests her.